Story by Aleksander Pury, adapted from the original sci-fi/cyberpunk script. A perfect classic point&click adventure game adapted for a modern audience and playable by mouse (as well as keyboard and gamepad). Alternativa is a story that will take you to a world much different to what you'd expect in 2045. To a world destroyed by war and revolutions, a world led by an oppressive and cruel dictatorship. In the wake of the election of Miloš Zeman (a war criminal) as the president, the country faces an unprecedented social and political crisis. In a now divided society, we follow the story of one character. Marianna, a young woman who becomes the victim of a power struggle during which she must play a dangerous game involving both the army and people involved in the political forces that the new war has brought with it. Good Night, Knight takes place inside a spire populated by monsters and ghosts. You must fight your way through the spire in order to restore balance to the spire and find out what has happened. You must navigate your way through the spire using items and crafting to complete various tasks, with the exploration of the spire being done via the 'point and click' method. Good Night, Knight features lots of weapons and items, as well as a crafting system that will give the player various items to help them on their way. Weapons and Items: There are many weapons to use in the game to aid in fighting the monsters of the spire. You can use a wide variety of melee and ranged weapons, such as weapons such as sword and bow, or you can even use a flamethrower. There are many weapons in the game, including the best gun in the world. The gun will kill even the most powerful of the monsters, and you will find the gun is in high demand. Monsters: There are lots of monsters to fight in Good Night, Knight. You will need to learn to fight them in order to progress. You must learn to adapt to certain situations as they come and solve situations as they arise. Exploration: The spire is full of secrets, which is what makes it such a great experience. You can collect secrets, which contain a variety of different things. Some of the secrets contain weapons or items, some contain secrets to advance your skills. Crafting: The game will allow the player to craft weaponry and items to help aid in the battle of the spire. You will be able to take from the ingredients around you and combine them to make the items you need. Travel: There is a train system in the game, which allows you to travel to various points in the spire. There are many people who will need your help, and you will be able to speak to them and get a good idea of where to go. Loss of faith or respect for one's dreamshapes is considered a condition in which the dreamer has lost access to their astral senses, and can no longer access the abilities given to them by the dreamshape. L.S.D. affects nearly everyone at some point in their life. Some people can control L.S.D. quite easily, others feel its effects most strongly at certain times or places in their life. For some people, the effects of L.S.D. are minor and can be quickly dealt with. Others, however, may suffer from symptoms lasting for many years, and in severe cases, all their astral senses may fail permanently. In these cases, the dreamer is in desperate need of the advice offered by the Dreamshape Council and its inhabitants. Dreamland is inhabited by Dreamshapes, including all manner of humanoids and an infinite number of fantastic creatures that live in this unique and fantastic world. Though Dreamland and its inhabitants have always been there, mankind has only been able to interact with them for the past three hundred years. Dreamland is a world of many stories, all of which are intertwined with each other. These stories, the Dreamshapes and the dreamers that inhabit them are constantly changing, expanding and interacting with each other. This infinite world is held together by a mighty Dreamshape called the Dreamer, who is also connected to all the inhabitants of Dreamland. His astral senses allow him to see his world, feel it and know its history and even tell its stories. The Dreamshapes' activities are constantly changing, and the peoples that live in Dreamland are just as diverse. Some are short-lived and transient, while others are permanent fixtures of the land. Some Dreamshapes prefer to live in their own places and others wander from one place to another in search of an exciting adventure. Some Dreamshapes live in harmony with their inhabitants, while others are just as likely to turn a new inhabitant of Dreamland into a zombie! In Dreamland, life is not always what it seems. There are all manner of fantastic creatures, including gods and dwarves, and even ghosts and witches. Each inhabitant of Dreamland has their own family, as well as their own history and memories. Dreamland is a land that has its own destiny and a certain path to follow, and it is the dreamer's job to learn more about it! As a powerful dreamshaper, you are charged with such a duty

enni a.k.a Mag Ice Peeepy Emma Stewart Bowers (Emma Dye) Emma is a 15 year old tomboy and heir to the Dubiw of Talbot castle. She grows up in the arms of one of her father's old friends, George Cope. Though George and Emma are once again apart after a tragedy from their wedding day, on one of their visits back to the castle, he gets into trouble with the newly crowned lady of the manor and runs for his life leaving Emma behind. Devastated, Emma returns to her home village under a false name and grows to be a vivacious and hardworking girl. Finding a way to publicize her identity and eventually return to the castle, Emma singlehandedly brings back Dubiw(Zigzag) and his second wife to Talbot castle.The sophomore did not participate in any team activities for the third straight spring camp and that sparked a bit of concern throughout the fan base. However, on Tuesday, Pat Stoops and the other Coaches were able to look through Jacobs eyes and were thoroughly impressed with what they saw. "He's got a fantastic future," Stoops said. "There's a lot of talent on that team. I think they're going to be better than what we saw last year. "He's got a lot of things that he's just got to work on. But to be honest with you he played lights out (against BYU) -- one run, one walk -- and I thought he played lights out in the spring." Video: Q&A with new kicker Richard Goodman There was every indication Jacobs has turned a corner following the video and information Stoops was able to work with. "I think he can be a dangerous player for us," Stoops said. "You gotta remember he was probably the best punter I ever coached. He's got a lot of talent, a lot of confidence. What I think he's going to mature into is a big-time player." Allard said Jacobs also "did the math" on where a team can score on any given play. "I think that's a big thing with him and it goes to show a maturity to carry himself," Allard said. "He understands what's really important and what's important during a game. "He's going to be a load for our defense. He's going to be
